

New Ideas in TOILETTES

New York City.—Short jackets and Etons are receiving a large amount of attention at present for tailor made suits as well as separate garments. A new and very stylish blouse is shown here, developed in dark blue Venetian with black moire and bands of white taffeta for trimming.

BLOUSE ETON WITH SLOE SEAMS.

The back is fitted with seams that extend from shoulder to belt, tapering toward the waist line. A half-inch tuck at each side of these seams is flatly stitched to produce the fashionable slot seam. A smooth adjustment is maintained under the arms.

In front, seams reach from the shoulder to correspond with those in the back, and the garment blouses over the velvet belt. This is narrow at the waist and extends to a point in front. Shaped tabs of velvet are applied.

The fronts are deeply underfaced with moire and rolled back to form revers. The neck is completed with a deep rolling collar of moire. They are finished with bands of white taffeta, machine stitched. The garment may be made without the collar and finished plain at the neck, giving a collarless Eton with long revers and slot seams.

The bishop sleeves are shaped with flower in the hair. Had women realized to what an extent the pretty custom was admired and even loved by the majority of the opposite sex it never would have fraternized with the spinning wheel, the blue dishes and the lace mitts in the dim and cobwebbed garret of things past.

To man, and that man a sweetheart, this little art, for such it is, of putting a flower in the hair is a signal to all the sensitive sentiment within him. If you doubt this, look to the volleys of poets. There you will find holding sway and running riot as roses on an old wall such phrases as "a blossom in her tresses," "a flower to bewitch me in her hair," and "that rose above her ear was my undoing."

Whether the hair be black or brown, red or gold, the charm of primeval femininity remains the same.

An All-White Hat.

In an all-white hat, a big flat one has the white ribbon trimming put on the top to give the effect of two big rosettes, the only trimming, with the exception of a line of single white dahlias set on under the rim on the left side and carried well to the back.

Green a Popular Color.

Green continues to be the popular color in millinery, as well as in dress fabrics. Green camels' hair hats, trimmed with green wings and blue velvet, are a prominent feature of this season's display of advanced styles.

Girl's Dress.

Green in all shades is very fashionable this season and will be used for children's dresses as well as ladies' costumes. It is shown here in a light shade, trimmed with white liberty satin and darker green velvet.

The foundation is a fitted body lining, adjusted with shoulder and underarm seams. It is faced with velvet to a pointed yoke depth back and front, and completed with a shallow collar.

The backs are arranged to outline the yoke, plain across the shoulders, and blousing stylishly at the belt. The fronts are crossed just below the yoke in double-breasted style.

A fancy sailor collar outlines the yoke and extends down the front edges.

The bishop sleeves are shaped with

LATEST MONTE CARLO COAT.

Inside seams and fit the upper arm closely. Two tucks on top of the sleeve are inverted to form a slot and stitched down almost to the wrist. The fulness provided by the tucks makes a puff that is gathered and arranged on narrow wristbands.

Any light weight cloth is appropriate for this mode, with silk or velvet trimmings. Some severely plain tailored effects have the collar and revers of the material heavily machine stitched.

To make the coat in the medium size will require one and three-quarter yards of material forty-four inches wide, with one and one-quarter yards of silk for trimming.

the right side fastening on the left with a small rosette of velvet ribbon. The collar is made of white satin trimmed with ribbon.

The full puff sleeves are gathered at upper edge, and attached to short fitted caps, the joining being concealed by ribbon that ties in a bow at the back. The sleeves are finished with narrow velvet cuffs.

The skirt is made in one piece, full at the waist and the body portion closing in the back. A ruffle of the material, headed by ribbon, provides an attractive finish, and gives an extra sweep to the back of the skirt.

Very stylish frocks in this mode may be made of silk, muslin, foulard, liberty satin crepe de chine, Lansdowne or poplin, with contrasting material for trimming.

To make the dress for a girl of eight years will require two and three-quarter yards of material thirty-six inches wide, with three-quarter yards of contrasting material and one-half yard of velvet trimmings.

TWO BOYS FOUND SLAIN

Their Bodies Discovered in a Field Near Haddon Heights, N. J.

POLICE ARREST A COMPANION

Friend of Victims Said to Have Been Seen With Them Last—He Stoutly Maintained His Innocence, Although Positively Identified by a Girl—Poison Theory Advanced by the Authorities.

Camden, N. J.—In finding the bodies of John H. Coffin, eleven years old, and Price Jennings, three years his senior, in a weed-grown field on the farm of Hulings Lippincott, on the Chew's Landing Road, near Haddon Heights, about seven miles southeast of Camden, the police had a baffling mystery on their hands.

The dead boys were sons of well-known Camden men. They disappeared from their homes shortly after noon Wednesday. The body of Jennings was found Friday night. That of Price was found the following morning. A short distance separated them.

Murder is strongly suspected. Paul Woodward, of Camden, sixteen years old, was placed under arrest, charged with the killing of young Coffin only. Not a single mark of violence was found on the body of either lad. Poison was what killed them, perhaps. The police officials are inclined to this theory. The stomachs of the victims were taken for analysis to George M. Berlinger, a Camden chemist.

Young Woodward stoutly maintained his innocence. Shortly after his arrest he made a voluntary statement. He traced his movements from Wednesday to the present time without hesitation. He admitted seeing Jennings and Coffin on Tuesday, but not since then.

His story, however, is contradicted by Lillian Martin. She is fifteen years old and lives in West Collingswood. She declared that on Wednesday afternoon, between 4 and 6 o'clock, Jennings and Coffin, with an older boy, entered the Cyclor's Rest on the White Horse Pike, where she was a clerk, and bought pies and soda pop. She was confronted with Woodward in County Prosecutor Lloyd's office, and she identified him as the youth who was with Coffin and Jennings. This is practically all the police have learned.

The two boys were great chums. Wednesday afternoon they met outside the Jennings home and walked north. They were last seen alive in the "Cyclor's Rest," within a short distance of where their bodies were found. Immediately after their disappearance the police were informed. No clue was discovered, although the country was searched.

Clarence Krusen, of Haddon Heights, and Frank Johnson, boys of Philadelphia, found the body of Jennings. They had been shooting blackbirds on Friday, and at dusk were hurrying through the Lippincott farm toward Krusen's home. Following a path along the brink of a pit, leading from a chestnut grove, they stumbled over the body of Jennings, which lay under a tree. They ran to Haddon Heights and told Freeholder Samuel Wood. He in turn telephoned Corner Paul Litchfield.

No search was made for the second body until Jennings had been identified by John Coffin's father. It was then searchers found Coffin's body in a clump of weeds forty yards from where Jennings had been found.

Soon after both bodies arrived at the Morgue the autopsy was begun. The police lost no time, and acting on a clue given them by Mr. Coffin, Woodward was arrested. For more than an hour Prosecutor Lloyd and Detectives Cherry and Hart cross-examined Woodward. Three times he was confronted with Lillian Martin, and each time as she left the Prosecutor's private office she declared that he was the boy who was with Jennings and Coffin at "Cyclor's Rest."

The only explanation given as to why Woodward was charged with killing Coffin was that the authorities were not sure of their ground, and simply wanted to hold the suspect until something more definite could be learned.

Young Coffin was a son of William Coffin, Division Freight Agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Jennings' father is Josephus Jennings, a well-known musician and director of the Third Regiment Band of Camden.

CONVICTED OF BRIBERY.

Snyder Sentenced to Five Years in the St. Louis Franchise Case.

St. Louis, Mo.—R. M. Snyder, banker, promoter and millionaire, well known in financial circles in New York City, St. Louis and Kansas City, was found guilty of bribery in connection with the passage of the Central Traction bill, and the jury assessed his punishment at five years in the penitentiary. He offered absolutely no evidence in an effort to establish his innocence, but relied entirely upon the attempts of his counsel to prove that the statute of limitation ought to apply.

The testimony offered by the State showed that Snyder placed $150,000 or more in the hands of members of the Municipal Assembly to secure the passage of the bill of which he was the promoter.

Under the Missouri law if Snyder had been a continual resident of the State since the passage of the bill the statute of limitation would be effective. The State proved that he lived at least the greater part of 1899 in New York.

Great Tribute to Zola.

The funeral of Emile Zola, in Paris, France, passed off without serious disturbance. The spectacle was an impressive one, 50,000 men, women and children following the coffin from the house to the cemetery, where funeral orations were delivered. Alfred Dreyfus walked in the procession, but was not recognized.

Beggars Barred From Cincinnati.

The Mayor of Cincinnati, Ohio, has issued an order that beggars of all descriptions must be kept off the streets.

MOROS' CRUSHING DEFEAT

Americans Win Complete Victory and Take Forty Forts.

A Sortie by Fanatics, Led by a Sultan, Met and Repulsed, and the Leader Slain.

Manila.—The American column under Captain John J. Pershing, of the Fifteenth Cavalry, has completely routed the Maciu Moros in Mindanao, killing or wounding 100 of them and capturing and destroying forty forts. Two Americans were wounded.

On Tuesday the Moros retired to their largest and strongest fort, on the lake. On Wednesday Captain Pershing attacked them with artillery, bombarding the enemy for three hours. At noon Lieutenant Loring, leading a squad of men, attempted to set fire to the fort. He crept under the walls and started a blaze, but the Moros discovered him and forced the Americans to retreat.

During the afternoon the Sultan of Cagayan led a sortie at the head of a band of fanatics armed with kris'es. They crept through the grass and sprang up and attacked the Americans. The Sultan was wounded six times and killed an American before he died. His followers were killed.

In the darkness Wednesday night Captain Pershing took his batteries within 100 yards of the fort, closed in the Moros broke through twice and attempted to escape by the beach, but were discovered and many of them were killed.

The Moros abandoned the fort early on Thursday, after fifteen hours' bombardment, and Thursday Captain Pershing destroyed the rest of the forts and returned to Camp Vicars.

It is believed the moral effect of the defeat of the Moros will be great. General Davis has ordered that hostilities be stayed in order to permit the Sultan of Bacolod and other hostile Sultans to make peace.

The Sultans of Maciu were confident of their ability to defeat the Americans and vowed before the fight to enter slavery voluntarily if they themselves were defeated.

General Davis has sent General Sumner, in command of the American forces in Mindanao, a congratulatory telegram on the success of Captain Pershing and the small American loss.

A CARLOAD OF BABIES.

Infants From New York Foundling Asylum For Families in Wisconsin.

Milwaukee, Wis.—A carload of babies was shipped through Milwaukee a few days ago. One of the little ones was consigned to a Milwaukee family, but the consignee did not appear at the station, and so no baby was left off here. They came from a New York Catholic foundling asylum, and are being distributed to families in this State.

The car arrived on the regular passenger train from Chicago at 11 o'clock a. m., and started for Oshkosh a few minutes later. There were thirty-five babies on board, varying in ages from a few months to two or three years, and were in charge of a matron, a nurse, and a male attendant, who took care of the transfers and receipts. They traveled in a regular first class coach, lying on the seats on improvised beds of linen and baby blankets, and were extremely well behaved.

A FIFTEEN-YEAR-OLD BRIDE.

She Had Eloped and the Truant Officer Was Searching For Her.

Goshen, N. Y.—Lud Fuller, twenty-three years old, and Mabel E. Allan, fifteen years old, both of Middletown, went to Port Jervis and were married at the Methodist Church parsonage there by Rev. W. A. Chickwick. The match was an elopement, and both of the young people intended that it should be kept quiet for some time.

They returned to their respective homes, and none was the wiser until Truant Officer S. R. Morgan called on the bride's mother, Mrs. James Allan, and stated that Mabel must return to school.

The young lady declined, but the "bozy" man was insistent, and finally he was informed of the wedding. He threw up both hands in surprise, but recovered his composure sufficiently to congratulate the bride, after which he speedily departed.

AN ELOPEMENT OUT WEST.

Cowboy Lochinvar Shot by Girl's Father After He Married Her.

Hyannis, Neb.—William Clark, a cowboy, eloped with Myrtle Sawyer, his employer's daughter, near here. Shawberg saw them as they started and emptied his gun at Clark, a bullet taking effect in the latter's hip. The couple got away, and when they reached Hyannis sent for a doctor and a preacher.

While one probed for the bullet the other married them. Clark swooned from pain at one part of the ceremony. The father arrived just as it was concluded, and was sent away at the point of a gun in the preacher's hands.

The girl was pledged to a man of her father's choice, but fell in love with Clark when the latter saved her life in a runaway.

Rioting at Glens Falls, N. Y.

A mob of fully 5000 sympathizers of the Hudson Valley Railway strikers paraded the streets at Glens Falls, N. Y., stopping all cars as they came through and storming the cars, breaking windows and cutting trolley ropes. So great did the disturbance become that Sheriff Gill ordered out Company K, of the National Guard, stationed there, to disperse the mob.

New British Ambassador Arrives.

The Campanian, bringing Sir Michael Herbert, the new British Ambassador, Lady Herbert, who is a sister of Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, and Michael Herbert, arrived at New York City. The representative of King Edward VII. was entered on the saloon list as "Rt. Hon. Sir Michael Herbert, K. C. M. G., C. B. (H. B. M. Ambassador to the United States of America)." The Ambassador and his family, after a two days' stay in New York City, proceeded to Washington.

The National Game.

Hulsitt, of the Phillies, is claimed by Detroit for next year.

Greminger, of Boston, has played errorless ball in forty-four out of the last forty-seven games.

Only seventeen National Leaguers are hitting above .300. So much for the foul strike rule.

John Harrington, the fast first baseman of the Independents, of Detroit, has signed with Toledo.

Comiskey must strengthen his pitching department to hold his own with Chicago in the American League.

Dog Buried Itself and Died.

A dog, which in its fatal sickness dug its own grave and crawled into it, is mourned by the family of C. M. Lee. The dog was a cocker spaniel and a great pet. It had been an important member of the family for some time.

A week or two ago the dog was taken sick. During its sickness it disappeared. The premises where it lived, and later all Elmwood avenue, were searched without avail for the dog. The fact that it was ill when it disappeared increased the distress of the family, and an advertisement offering a reward for the dog's return, dead or alive, was inserted.

On Friday the dog's body was found beneath the doorsteps of Mr. Lee's house in a hole which it had evidently dug itself as a grave. The same place had previously been explored, but the body was so covered with dirt that it escaped observation. It is unnecessary to add that the lamented spaniel was given a more ceremonious burial.—Providence Journal.

Monkeys on the Tight Rope.

John Evelyn in 1600 went to see the fair in Southwark, which used to be held every September. Probably he was attracted by the wonderful doings of some performing monkeys, whose antics on the tight rope were the talk of the town. They were dressed in the latest fashion, walked upright, bowed to the spectators and saluted each other with a grace worthy of a dancing master. Holding a basket of eggs they turned head over heels without breaking any. This feat they would also do with lighted candles in their hands and on their heads without putting out the lights, or with vessels of water without spilling a drop. At the same fair Evelyn saw a marvelous thing, which seems past belief. He saw a man lift an iron cannon weighing about 400 pounds with the hair of his head only.

Bridal Headgear.

Bridal headgear varies in different countries. In France as in England and America the bride's wreath is of orange blossoms, but in Germany it is of myrtle. In Italy and French Switzerland brides are crowned with white roses, in Bohemia with rosemary, and in German Switzerland with artificial flowers. In Norway and Sweden bridal crowns are of silver, and in Bavaria and Silesia they are often made of glass. The Finns and Wendes do not scorn bridal wreaths of gilt paper.

A Unique Garden Spot.

After the turmoil of the long summer one instinctively casts about for a winter's abode. A place remote from the whirl of the city where quietness reigns and where the advantages of the metropolis may be had is invariably chosen. The busy man of course wishes to be within hailing distance of New York and just far enough away that the train ride is not tedious. That fashionable winter resort, Lakewood, N. J., meets every demand. A ninety-minute journey takes you in Lakewood, where your most particular whims are catered to and the conveniences afforded are palatial in every respect. The public schools are model educational institutions and there are also several private schools of reputation. The climate at Lakewood is at least ten degrees warmer than New York or Philadelphia. The roads for those who enjoy driving or the auto are exceptional. The pine belt in which this charming resort is located is beautiful in the extreme, and for social environs Lakewood has no equal.

The hotels are marvelously kept hostleries and every convenience is at hand for the convenience and comfort of the guests. Outdoor life is the thing at Lakewood, and golf, polo, cross country riding and coaching are of course the favorite recreations. If you want to know more of Lakewood send a postal to C. M. Burt, General Passenger Agent of the New Jersey Central, New York Dept. 314, for booklet and time table.

Money would be more enjoyable if it took as long to spend it as it does to earn it.

PE-RU-NA NECESSARY TO THE HOME.

A Letter From Congressman White, of North Carolina.

PE-RU-NA IS A HOUSEHOLD SAFEGUARD.

No Family Should Be Without It.

PERUNA is a great family medicine. The women praise it as well as the men; it is just the thing for the many little catarrhal ailments of childhood. The following testimonials from thankful men and women tell in direct, sincere language what their success has been in the use of Peruna in their families:

Louis J. Scherrinsky, 103 Locust street, Atlantic, Iowa, writes:

"I will tell you briefly what Peruna has done for me. I took a severe cold, which gave me a hard cough. All doctors' medicines failed to cure it. I took one bottle of Peruna and was well."

"Then my two children had bad coughs accompanied by gagging. My wife had stomach trouble for years. She took Peruna and now she is well."

"I cannot express my thanks in words, but I recommend your remedy at every opportunity, for I can conscientiously say that there is no medicine like Peruna. Nearly every one in this town knew about the sickness of myself and family, and they have seen with astonishment what Peruna has done for us. Many followed our example, and the result was health. Thanking you heartily, I am."—L. J. Scherrinsky.

Mrs. Nannie Wallace, Tulare, Cal., President of the Western Baptist Missionary Society, writes:

"I consider Peruna an indispensable article in my medicine chest. It is twenty medicines in one, and has so far cured every sickness that has been in my home for five years. I consider it of special value to weakly women, as it builds up the general health, drives out disease and keeps you in the best of health."—Mrs. Nannie Wallace.

Peruna protects the family against coughs, colds, catarrh, bronchitis, catarrh of the stomach, liver and kidneys. It is just as sure to cure a case of catarrh of the bowels as it is a case of catarrh of the head.

I [Aluminum Used For Paper.

It is stated that experiments with aluminum as a substitute for paper are now under way in France. It is now possible to roll aluminum into sheets four-thousandths of an inch in thickness, in which form it weighs less than paper. By the adoption of suitable machinery these sheets can be made even thinner and can be used for book and writing paper. The metal will not oxidize, is practically fire and water proof and is indestructible by worms.

HON. GEORGE H. WHITE.

Congressman George Henry White, of Tarboro, N. C., writes the following letter to Dr. Hartman in regard to the merits of the great catarrh cure, Peruna:

House of Representatives, Washington, Feb. 4, 1899.

Gentlemen—"I am more than satisfied with Peruna, and find it to be an excellent remedy for the grip and catarrh. I have used it in my family and they all join me in recommending it as an excellent remedy."

Very respectfully,
George H. White.

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.: Peruna is an internal, scientific, systemic remedy for catarrh. It is no palliative or temporary remedy; it is thorough in its work, and in cleansing the diseased mucous membranes cures the catarrh. If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Discarded War Material.

Some idea of the vast quantities of discarded war material thrown upon the general market by the successive changes in armament adopted by the various great powers may be gathered from the list of arms now offered for sale from this cause by the Italian Government. The list includes 600,000 rifles adopted as recently as 1887, with 48,000,000 cartridges, 1200 nine-pounder and 500 seven-pounder guns, with 100,000 shells, and 170 seven-pounder mountain guns, with 17,000 shells.
